“There is no higher religion than human service.
To work for the common good is the greatest creed.”
- Woodrow Wilson

The goal of education is the physical, intellectual and spiritual development. Chasing this dream, Bharati Vidyapeeth's College of Engineering has come a long way in providing education to students. Our continuous efforts to find new innovative methods of teaching have resulted in steep rise in the performance and overall growth of our students.

We at BVCOE, aim at giving an extra dimension to higher education to orient the youth towards community service, expose them to the realities of life, bring about a change in their social perception and sensitize them to the needs of the masses so that they can accommodate them when they become policy makers. This is beautifully done by the NSS Unit of our College. With greater emphasis of purpose-driven research than passion-driven, NSS helps young bright students to utilize their knowledge acquired to find solutions to individual and community problems. It also develops the ability to work in a team, leadership, cooperation and other skills.

I am grateful to the editorial team who has worked hard to put forward the activities of BVCOE NSS.

Great Work!!
With Warm Regards,

Dr. Dharmender Saini

From Editor's Desk

“The best way to find yourself is to lose yourself in the service of others.”
- Mahatma Gandhi

We live today in a world that is so very different from the one we grew up in, the one we were educated in. The world today is changing at such an accelerated rate and we as educators need to pause and reflect on this entire system of Education. Are our colleges well equipped to prepare our children to face the challenges that the future holds?

Questions such as these are factors that motivate us to go through a continuous process of reflection and hence we at BVCOE NSS work at bringing a ‘PARIVARTAN’ in a child’s thinking so as to ensure that the children who walk into the portals of our Unit will not just experience and realize the realities of society but also be truly prepared to face life’s challenges.

This issue of our magazine is a milestone that marks our growth, unfolds our imaginations, and gives life to our thoughts and aspirations. It unleashes a wide spectrum where our volunteers truly abide by the motto ‘NOT ME, BUT YOU’.

I congratulate the entire editorial team for their hard work and dedication in making this magazine come true.

It is a great service for the society and we are our initiative was appreciated by all

The blood donation camp has proven to be a beacon of hope and solidarity within our community. As we reflect on the collective efforts and altruism displayed by donors, organizers, and volunteers alike, it becomes evident that these events play a pivotal role in maintaining a robust and resilient healthcare system.
